Witness Said Youtsey Declared $1,-260 Was Ready to Be Paid for the Assassination From the Executive Building.

Georgetown, Ky., July 24.—The third and last week of the examination of witnesses for the commonwealth in the Caleb Powers case began Monday morning.

John Ricketts, lieutenant in John Powers' Barboursville company of state militia, was the first witness called. He said that Wharton and Green Golden were officers in the company. The witness went to Frankfort on the special train and returned home the second day after the shoot-

"The day before Goebel was shot," said Ricketts, "I was talking to Henry Youtsey, and we were discussing hunting. He said that Goebel had to be put out of the way, and that he had $100 to do it with, and that he knew 10 or 12 others who would give as much. He said that it could be done from the executive building, and the person who did it could pass out of the basement. He said that his job depended on this contest.

"On the day of the assassination I was at our headquarters, in the agricultural building, when Youtsey came over about 10:30 and said he wanted all of us to go with him. There were about 25 or 30 in the room, and 12 or 15 went with him to the executive building. Youtsey put us inside the building near the stairs and told us fice of the assistant secretary of to stay there, that something was going to happen. A long time was taken up in the examination of Ed Porter Thompson, sr., who located the spot where Goebel fell, because, from where he was standing, inside the capitol building hallway, he could not see the body for one of the large pillars. He located the various windows in the executive building.

Ed Porter Thompson, jr., testified that he was standing on Lewis street, east of Capitol square, but could not see the place where Senator Goebel feli, on account of a mound at the foot of a tree between him and the

At this point Judge Cantrill again remembered the sheriff, and fined him $2.50 for not keeping the aisle clear around the jury.

Miss Ella Smith, of Barbourville, told of a conversation between John Powers and herself on January 16. They were regretting the Colson-Scott tragedy, which happened in Frankfort on that day, and Powers said there would be some more bloodshed at Frankfort if Goebel was seated. Witness was surprised at this statement and said, "Oh, Mr. Powers, you would not be willing to kill him, would you?" to which Powers replied that he would.

James Fletcher, of Knox county, testified to having heard John Powers say in December that "Taylor had been elected governor, and if any effort was made to count him out Goebel would never be seated."

Georgetown, Ky., July 26,-When Judge Cantrill's court convened Wednesday morning a dozen or more witnesses who had been summoned on behalf of the commonwealth were excused on motion of the prosecution, and as the same thing has occurred each morning this week the total list of witnesses for the prosecution has Youtsey took a position by a window and later went into the office for the secretary of state where he knelt down by a window pointing the gun out of it. Powers saw Youtsey and asked witness to get him out from the room, and witness asked Youtsey what he was doing there with a gun. Youtsey said there was trouble up there, pointing to the house. Witness told him he had adjourned, and asked Youtsey what he intended to do in case of the trouble. Youtsey said: "I don't intend to start trouble, but if it starts this building must be protected." Witness said the defendant Powers there joined him. Told Youtsey it would never do for anyone to shoot from that building. Youtsey had tall window raised and blind pulled down. Witness left the room, leaving Youtsey and Powers in the room together. On Monday following Powers came to witness and told him Youtsey was outside and wanted admission to the office of the secretary of state. Powers said Youtsey acted so peculiarly that he did not want him around, and asked witness to go out and get him away.

Saturday prior to the assassination witness saw three guns in the office of the secretary of state. Youtsey called attention of witness to them by removing a plank under which they were concealed. Youtsey said, "Powers claims to be a brave man, but he hid his gun."

Witness was in the governor's reception room, which is also the ofstate's and corporation clerk's, when the shooting occurred. Those in the body there would be mobbed, and

Georgetown and Scott county are excited over a report that several hundred of Powers' mountain friends will arrive here Monday or Tuesday and they fear that trouble may occur in that event.
